SALUS

UNGAVA

www.salusmarine.com • $139

The Ungava is a unisex vest with the Salus trademark and features soft, rounded edges and a contoured fit. It also has the bonus features of fleece-lined pockets and the option to attach a quick-release belt. Combined with a zippered security pocket, a mesh drop-down pocket for quick access, five lash points, Drylex lining and added reflective, the Ungava is a welcome companion on any open-water adventure.

STOHLQUIST WATERWARE

BETSEA and DRIFTER

www.stohlquist.com • $129.95

Men's and women's-specific Betsea offer the most comfortable flotation in a low-profile, front-zip touring vest. The ergonomic, re-shaped torso wraps around the body for a secure and low-profile fit. A cross-chest cinch harness keeps flotation elements low on the torso, eliminating ride-up and providing the most effective buoyancy. Fleece hand warmers, large zippered storage and added reflective elements are standard.

SHIFT

NEW FOR 2014

The Shift features three-layer, Rampart waterproof-breathable fabric, a patent-pending Captive Zip self-entry system, relief zipper and a removable hood. While it looks like a two-piece jacket and pant, the Shift is a fully dry one-piece suit. Latex neck and wrist gaskets are standard. The Shift also allows you to operate in a standby mode, which is perfect for activities that still require weatherproof protection, but where the risk of swimming is minimal.
